

Port Ewen Water Plans Passed by Town Board On Thursday Evening

Will Advertise for Bids on Saturday Calling for Guaranteed Supply, Drilling and New Pump House.

NO OPPOSITION

No Public Disfavor Found With Amended Plans, Calling for Deep Well, Pipe Lines.

A public hearing held Thursday evening at the Port Ewen engine house was attended by about 60 citizens of the new Port Ewen water district and after a general discussion there was no opposition to the amended plans for a water system. The Esopus town board unanimously approved the amended plans and will commence Saturday to advertise for bids for the drilling of a guaranteed well and for the erection of a pump house. Bids will be opened by the town board on March 11 and it is expected that if the bids prove satisfactory the contract will be awarded and work will shortly be under way on the system.

No Opposition Voiced

The purpose of the meeting Thursday evening was to give the public an opportunity to express any opposition to the amended plans. Prior plans had been approved but when it became necessary to switch from a shallow type well system to the idea of purchasing water from the city of Kingston, the plans had to be revised. Beside the change from the shallow infiltration gallery type of well to a deep well it was necessary to change the size of certain pipe lines to conform to the new plan. This was simply an engineering problem.

At first it was hoped the village of Port Ewen might purchase water from Kingston and plans were made for a pipeline under the Rondout creek. When the Board of Water Commissioners of Kingston turned down this plan and refused to sell Port Ewen water it was necessary to change the plans from the large diameter pipe running from the creek to the village and place a larger pipe from Salem street to the new source of supply. This was a detail worked out by Sanborn & Bogert, engineers for the Port Ewen Water District.

In Position to Advertise

Approval of the amended plans now places the Town Board, which is acting as a Board of Water Commissioners for the district, in position to commence advertising for the well and pump house. Bids will shortly be called for and work commenced on the stand pipe and pipe lines. This item will probably be let in two contracts. Supervisor Raymond Howe this morning stated that there was no opposition expressed at the meeting last evening but several interested citizens made inquiries at the public hearing in regard to details of the plan. These being answered to the satisfaction of all, the town board unanimously approved the new plans and will seek bids for the work.

Footpath Bill Advances

Albany, Feb. 26 (AP).—Legislation permitting construction of footpaths along one side of rural highways was advanced today in the New York legislature as another step in the Empire State's drive to reduce highway accident fatalities. Republican Senator Thomas C. Desmond of Otsego county, author of the bill, said it "may save a life every 23 hours."

To Measure Clothes

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP).—The government decided today to do something today about clothes that do not fit the buyer. Home economic experts will equip hundreds of college boys and girls with tape measures and explain directions in an effort to learn just what dimensions, for example, a size 32 dress or suit should be.

Sit-Down Strikers Get Worst of It; Planning Return to Picket Lines

(By The Associated Press)

Hundreds of strikers abandoned the sit-down technique of enforcing their demands and turned to picketing today as officers with gas routed three score sit-downers from the Faansteel Metallurgical plant at Waukegan, Ill.

Although new sit-downs cropped out along the widespread strike front, some state and local officials indicated they were prepared to deal sternly with strikers who refuse to evacuate plants.

This was the method used at Faansteel. The strikers fled from the building, some bleeding from effects of the gas shot in through windows in a surprise attack. About 50 deputies participated.

Police armed with machine guns, tear gas bombs and pistols, also evicted 341 strikers from the Douglas Aircraft plant at Santa Monica, Calif., largest of its kind in the world. Union organizers recruited pickets to carry on the strike involving 5,600 employees.

Some 75 men went on a sit-down strike at the Northrop Corp., Douglas subsidiary employing 1,150 workers, and 40 men walked out of the Rocky Mountain Steel Products plant in sympathy.

Sixty sit-down strikers at the H. Daroff & Sons clothing plant in Philadelphia marched out under police pressure.

No Sit-Downers Says Cross

Gov. Wilbur Cross of Connecticut declared he would not tolerate sit-down strikes in Connecticut. Gov. Harold Hoffman of New Jersey had made a similar statement previously.

Minneapolis residents protested interruption of electric service during a picket strike of electrical workers at the Northern States Power Company plants. Some sections of the city were in darkness during the night. Police guarded plants and substations.

President Robert J. Aitchison of Faansteel Corporation rejected Governor Henry Horner's proposals for settlement of the strike some time before the early morning attack. The

Agent of Congress

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP).—President Roosevelt's government reorganization program has been modified in some respects, it was disclosed today, particularly in suggestion that the proposed new auditor general be an agent of Congress rather than of the Chief Executive. The auditor would replace the present comptroller general, who has been charged with determining that government funds are spent as Congress directs. Several congressmen had criticized the position under the executive branch.

Three "Hick Cops" Take Public Rat No. 1, After Gang Had Looted Bank

Desperado Merle Vandembush of Wisconsin and Companions Captured at North Castle, N. Y., Escaping from Bank Robbery.

LIFE SENTENCE

Life in Prison Faces Pint-sized Bad Man—Other States Seek Prisoner for Crimes.

White Plains, N. Y., Feb. 26 (AP).—Merle Vandembush, pint-sized desperado known to the chief of the G-men as "Public Rat No. 1," paced a county jail cell today, the prisoner of peace officers he sneeringly called "country cops."

Jail-breaker, kidnaper and bank robber, the 29-year-old Green Bay, Wis., gunman was hauled out of the rumble seat of a cheap coupe at North Castle, N. Y., late yesterday, a bare 22 minutes after he and a confederate had looted a bank of $17,600.

His fight was gone. "All right," he grumbled a short time later in the Bedford Hills police station as he eyed a circular bearing his picture. "I might as well tell you now as later. I'm Vandembush."

Today he faced the probability of a quick indictment for robbery and, considering his record, a life sentence in prison. A companion in the hold-up, Joseph Stuzza, also 29, and a third man, George Rera, 27, who drove their car, faced similar troubles.

Three country policemen, who figured the driver of the coupe looked a mite suspicious, ignominiously curtailed for the squint-eyed, thick-lipped Vandembush a career in crime which began 19 years ago.

Did Not Know Bad Men

They did not know the importance of their catch until later. They were looking only for bandits who had robbed the Northern Westchester bank of Katonah, five miles away, a few minutes before.

Partner of another desperado, Harry Brunette—with whom, federal agents said he admitted, he kidnapped William A. Turnbull, New Jersey State Trooper, last November 11—Vandembush and Stuzza held up the bank with conventional technique.

Clad in overalls, face greasy, they drove a half dozen persons at pistol point into a vault, scooped up the money and raced for an automobile at the curb. A short way out of town the three apparently switched to a second car, the coupe, Stuzza and Vandembush crawling into the baggage compartment.

Warned by a general alarm, policemen William G. Hendricks, John A. Hergenban and William Orman had set up a barricade at North Castle. They had stopped several automobiles for questioning when Rera charged into view.

"Brush salesman. Going to New York," said Rera shortly, but Hendricks thought that sounded evasive. The officer plodded to the rear of the car and whipped open the rumble seat.

Two gun muzzles popped out. Hendricks banged the lid shut. He yelled. His fellow officers came on.

"Drop those guns!" they called. Metal thudded on the floor of the car. Vandembush and Stuzza wormed out, hands high. Rera sat transfixed.

Indicted for the Turnbull kidnapping, for which Brunette is serving a life term in New Jersey, Vandembush also is wanted for bank robberies in Seymour, Ripon and Monroe, Wis. Brunette was captured in a spectacular raid by federal agents under their chief, J. Edgar Hoover, last December 15 in a Manhattan hideout.

Vandembush, who escaped with Brunette from a London, O., prison farm last July, said he had been living in Brooklyn since then. The bank loot, in a brown shopping bag, was recovered.

Optional Retirement Bill For Supreme Court Judges Passes; Goes to President

Conference Tuesday

Concerning Data on Esopus Flood Report

A tentative date has been set for meeting with the U. S. Army Engineers for an informal conference relative to the filing of an appeal in the matter of federal flood control in the Esopus and Upper Rondout valleys in Ulster county. This conference has been set for next Tuesday in New York when a committee to consist of Supervisor Charles Andrews of Shandaken, County Clerk James A. Simpson, County Superintendent of Highways James J. Loughbran and County Attorney Roscoe V. Elsworth will meet with Col. E. L. Daley.

The conference will be in the nature of an information seeking meeting to be held at the U. S. Army Building. Col. Daley is attached to the U. S. Army Engineers, first district, in this corps area. Steps to be taken in the filing of an appeal at Washington will be talked over and such information as can be secured in regard to the report which the army engineers made following their inspection of the flood area will be given the local committee to aid it in preparing its appeal to Washington.

May Inspect Report

It is expected that the committee will be given an opportunity to inspect the full report made by the engineers. Thus far the only information available is the circular letter of Col. Peck which stated that the engineers did not recommend the expenditure of federal funds in this area since the annual damage was comparatively small. This full report will be presented to Congress for consideration and until it is presented to Congress will not be made public. Had the report of the army engineers been favorable then Congress probably would have followed out the recommendations and appropriated funds for flood control work. In view of the adverse report there is little likelihood of any appropriation being made unless the local people can show upon their appeal that the recommendations of the engineers should be amplified.

At the conference scheduled for Tuesday steps necessary for an appeal will be discussed as well as facts contained in the report which the local committee considers grounds for appeal.

Hunger-Dazed Miners Give Up

Pecos, Hungary, Feb. 26 (AP).—A "suicide" strike of 250 miners collapsed today and the men, half-crazed from hunger and many bleeding from wounds suffered in an underground fight, staggered out of the shaft. Sobbing wives and relatives greeted them. Some of the grimy-faced workers, too weak to walk, were carried on the shoulders of their comrades.

Propose State Commerce Dept.

Syracuse, Feb. 26 (AP).—Associated Industries, Inc., representing 1,612 New York manufacturers, proposed today the establishment of a State Department of Commerce. Directors to the association and the advisory council adopted a resolution yesterday favoring an amendment to the state constitution providing for such a department.

To Expand Pension Plan

Chelan, Wash., Feb. 26 (AP).—Isom Lamb, sponsor of the first "revolving dollar" pension test, said today 100,000 old people will be embarked on a nation-wide 12-month pension test by April 1, each under contract to spend $200 a month.

England and America

England and America have strategic bases in all parts of the world. However, statements who have studied the matter give numerous reasons why a formal defensive pact would not be feasible. Here are some:

Such an alliance would be a serious defeat for its own purpose—that of ensuring peace—because other great powers like Germany, Italy, Japan and perhaps France, would resent it. Hostility would be developed where friendship was wanted.

While Britain and America subscribe to the same ideals, their interests in numerous instances are not mutual.

There are many Americans of foreign origin who would oppose such an alliance. Take those whose ancestors came from southern Ireland, for instance. The southern Irish have a bitter hatred for England and all her works.

And alliance might involve America in a European conflict in which she had no direct interest.

Mother Gets Order

Young Incompetent, But Wife Protests

In January of this year a proceeding was had before County Judge Frederick G. Traver and a jury on the application of Mrs. Laura H. Peck Young of New York, an application made to the County Court petitioning the court to appoint a commission of the person of Theodore Gordon Peck, 3rd, her son. The matter was heard in County Court before a jury and after considerable testimony had been taken the jury determined that young Peck, 22 years old, was not competent to manage himself and following this verdict by the jury Judge Traver signed an order appointing Mrs. Laura H. Peck Young a commission of the person of her son. Since the son did not claim to have any estate or property no application was made for a commission of his property.

During the trial it was testified by witnesses that young Peck, a son of Theodore Peck, 2nd, who was killed in a bomb explosion in Wall street, New York several years ago, was unable to care for himself. The son appeared and did not oppose the appointment of his mother as a commission of his person. At the trial testimony was taken to the effect that young Peck was not insane but was a psychopathic personality and was not competent to handle himself.

Mother Appointed

The order of Judge Traver appointed Mrs. Young, his mother, a commission to care for him. Following the order of the court, which did not commit the young man to any institution, his mother as a commission appointed by the court did send him to a private institution for care and treatment and he is now at a local institution where he is being treated.

Now an action has been brought, under the show cause order, which will be argued before Judge Traver on March 3, by the wife of Theodore G. Peck to have the appointment of a commission of his person set aside. She claims that at the time of the bringing of the action in January she was not served and had no notice of the proceeding.

Mrs. Laura H. Peck Young is socially prominent in New York city. At the former action here in January, Mrs. Young petitioned the court for the appointment of a commission of his person of the grounds that in the past he had been unable to care for himself despite the fact that Mr. Young had repeatedly attempted to get the young man on his feet. There was testimony at that time that young Peck had been staked to a large ranch but that he had been unable to properly manage it, that he had been a patient at Bellevue Hospital and at a private institution on a prior occasion and that he was, according to the Bellevue Hospital authorities and other doctors, of a psychopathic personality and not able to properly conduct himself. The young man appeared at the hearing and consented to his mother being appointed a commission. There was also testimony given regarding various check transactions in which Mr. Young had made good the amounts.

Married Two Years

Young Peck was married to his wife about two years ago during the time he occupied the southern ranch but she, he alleges, left him. Last fall she wrote the Governor.

Measure Approved By Vote of 76

to 4 After Brief Debate — Roosevelt to Make Nation-wide Radio Address.

F. D. R. WARNS

Roosevelt Warns Press His Speech May Not Touch Court Reform on March 9.

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP).—The Senate today passed and sent to the White House the Summers bill to permit Supreme Court members to retire voluntarily on full pay at 70 years of age.

The vote was 76 to 4. The measure was swiftly approved after brief debate during which some senators said they would not respect court members who might retire under present circumstances.

This view was expressed by Senators Johnson (R., Calif.) and Burke (D., Neb.), both opponents of President Roosevelt's court reorganization plan.

Some administration leaders—including Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic floor chief—have expressed the view that passage of the Summers bill might lead to the retirement of one or two justices now on the court.

Nation-wide Address

The Senate's action came only a short while after President Roosevelt announced at his press conference that he would make a nation-wide radio address at 10:30 p. m. E. S. T. March 3. It is expected by White House officials to include a discussion of his court proposals.

Just before the Senate vote, the big Democratic majority in that chamber shouted down an amendment by Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) which would have postponed operation of the bill four years, or until after President Roosevelt's term expires.

Bridges pointed out the Summers bill had been introduced two years ago but failed to enactment.

He told the Senate his amendment would take the Supreme Court "out of politics and out of the situation in which it is involved today."

Four Opponents

The four senators voting against the bill were: Bridges; Bulow (D., S. D.); Johnson; and Moore (D., N. J.).

Although the President warned newspapermen at a press conference not to go out on a limb in predicting an address on the court issue there were well founded indications he would touch on that subject. The speech will be for one-half hour beginning at 10:30 p. m. E. S. T.

The President made his announcement just before the Senate made ready to debate legislation to permit Supreme Court justices to retire voluntarily on full pay at the age of 70.

Hope for Way Out

Administration leaders hoped passage of the measure might point a way out of the threatening impasse over the Roosevelt judicial reorganization program.

Replying to repeated inquiries whether the court would be discussed in this address, the President said the speech would touch on a good many problems affecting the state and the nation. He added he had no idea what he would put in it at this time.

Asked if there was any significance in selecting March 3—the day the Senate judiciary committee will begin hearings on the judiciary proposals—Mr. Roosevelt laughed and replied he was leaving for Warm Springs, Ga., March 10 and wanted to make the address before that.

The measure before the Senate—already approved by the House—is not a part of Mr. Roosevelt's broad program, but it has been endorsed by him.

Social Security Tax Due Feb. 28

Employers were reminded today that federal social security tax returns on Form SS-1 for January are due February 28.

In a joint statement issued by Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, regional director of the social security board, and Almon G. Rasquin, James J. Hoey and Joseph P. Higgins, collectors of the first, second and third collection districts, the following directions were given:

Every employer covered by Title VIII of the Social Security Act shall make a monthly tax return, in quadruplicate, on Form SS-1. This return is filed by all employers, regardless of the number of employees that they have. Even employers of only one employee are subject to this tax.

Returns for January are due February 28. Since the 28th of February falls on Sunday, employers may file these returns and pay the taxes on March 1 without penalty. The law provides penalties for delinquency in filing the return and for failure to pay within the required time. To avoid penalties, January returns and remittances must be in the hands of the internal revenue collector by March 1.

Prior to the effective date of the taxes, the collectors of internal revenue compiled lists of persons and firms apparently subject to the tax and distributed forms to them. But failure to receive a form, does not excuse an employer for failing to file an SS-1 form. Employers should make application to the collector if a form has not been received.

Checks and money orders are to be made payable to the Collector of Internal Revenue. Do not send returns or remittances to the Social Security Board. Employers must be sure that remittance is attached to Form SS-1.

the natural rate of increase, that is, the excess of the birth rate over the death rate, was at a minimum for all time, about 5 per 1,000. TWO BANDITS DEAD, OFFICER BADLY HURT IN GUN BATTLE

St. Louis, Feb. 26 (AP)—Two bandits were dead and a police officer was in a critical condition today, following a gun battle at a mid-town hotel yesterday.

While Detective Sergeant John Thomas Sullivan battled for his life in a hospital, holdup victims viewed the bodies of the slain men, linking them, police said, with a series of holdups in the last week. Seven persons were robbed Wednesday night in a 45-minute crime foray attributed to the pair.

The dead men were identified by fingerprints as Ray Ruch, 19, and Alvin Mott, 19, who with Joe Scott, escaped from the Michigan state prison at Jackson last Friday.

Woodstock to Hold 10th Anniversary Tea for Library

Woodstock, Feb. 26.—On March 4, 1927, ten years ago, the library of the Woodstock Club was moved into the present library building and has since become the Woodstock Library. The occasion of the transfer to the new location was celebrated with a tea party in the library.

On March 4 of this, the tenth year in the present building, a tenth anniversary tea will be held.

At the first tea party, 10 years ago, 50 adults and 25 children took part. This year two parties will be held, one for adults and high school children and at a later date a special party for the younger children.

The occasion of the moving is a memorable one in the history of Woodstock. It was a particularly hard winter that year but thanks to John Peper and his new truck, Ben Snyder and Courtney Rodney, the moving was accomplished quickly and efficiently. The work of pasting, cleaning, sorting and arranging the books was completed through the willing and capable assistance of Mrs. Ray Elwyn, Miss Fanny Elwyn, Mrs. Mary Meyer, Mrs. Ben Snyder, Ralph Elghmey and his senior pupils and Mrs. W. O. Thompson, who gave generously of her experience in the Miami, Fla. library. Mrs. Carl Eric Lindlin, in the absence of the trustees most of whom were away that winter, supervised the work of moving and reorganizing.

A drive was made for membership resulting in 10 members paying $25 a year as well as the many others at the usual $1 a year, or more, according to their means.

Since that time the membership has been increased greatly, the circulation goes as high as 20,000 books a year, all schools in the town, as well as some in Daisy, High Woods and Phoenix are suppliers.

A traveling book truck takes books to readers in all Woodstock districts. The library now receives money from the town board of Woodstock, as well as $100 yearly from the state library for the purchase of books.

At the tea to be held on March 1 all the original friends and members will be joined by the many new friends who have been added in the 10 intervening years.

Famous Testimonial

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP)—Members of New York's two legislative branches will honor former Republican Senate Leader George F. Pearson here March 10 at a testimonial dinner.

"SUFFERED SIX YEARS WITH CONSTIPATION"

"For six years I suffered with constipation, and I decided to try ALL-BRAN. I have been eating it once a day for about four years, and it has certainly done the work."

—Mrs. Herman Fretwell, 305 W. Oak Ave., Jonesboro, Ark.

Tests prove that ALL-BRAN's ALL-BRAN is safe and effective for correcting common constipation.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. It also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonsful daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. Three times daily in severe cases. You'll find this food far better than laxatives, pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—The red-haired, Cagneyish-looking Irishman who goes by the highfalutin' name of Paul Gerard Smith is a great yarn-spinner.

Smith, who writes pieces for stage, screen, radio and whatnot, cannot abide swank. He lives in an insanely comfortable two-story house where four children have the run of the furniture along with one perpetually drowsy cat, and where the missus is not above whipping up a beef stew when the Swedish cook is busy with the washing.

He tells of the time a friend of his, entertaining a visiting socialite at luncheon, did it up with fancy dishes, more silver than in many a mine, and a butler behind each guest's chair.

Swank Falls Smith felt the Presence behind him, was aware of gimlet eyes upon him each time he reached for the wrong fork. Finally, exasperated by the continual reaching in of hands from behind, he could stand it no longer.

He leaned back in his chair, turned and addressed his butler pointedly: "If you're anywhere to go, Buddy, will you please go—leave—scram!"

Whereupon the visiting lady, with relief turned to her own particular arbuter, "That goes for you, too!" she exclaimed—after which everybody settled down and had a swell time.

Smith, 40, is a graduate of the old Chicago journalistic period that produced Hecht and MacArthur. He served in the marines in the World war, and is a veteran of numerous hectic clashes and campaigns with war lords of stage and screen. He is either a man to whom things happen, proving truth stranger than fiction, or else he is a great—yarn-spinner.

Picked To Die He tells of a time he was in Berlin. He fell in with a courteous German who offered to aid his sightseeing, and they wound up a pleasant afternoon by visiting a dive for a mug of beer. Here, as they sipped and talked, appeared two plainclothes men, arresting them both.

Well, Smith soon proved he was just a tourist, but the other fellow—the cops told Smith he was the last survivor of a notorious gang of murderous thieves, that they had arrived in the well-known nick because he—Paul Gerard Smith—had been nominated for extinction.

Buddy Ebsen's studio ordered him to wear a mask or give up boxing lessons while he is engaged in making a picture.

Edna May Oliver is giving lessons in knitting—between shots—to Myrna Loy and Billie Burke.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Feb. 26.—On Thursday evening, March 4, the Level Club will entertain the Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., in the Level Club rooms here.

Andre Nisson has returned from Florida. Miss Beatrice Andrews of Brooklyn spent the holiday week-end with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd and Mrs. Todd.

The Woodstock post office is receiving a case of paint on the interior.

The subject for the third Sunday in Lent at the Lutheran Church will be "Called Unto Holiness." The evening service will be the reading of the 4th part of the passion history, "Peter—Then and Now."

The Sportsmen's Club of Woodstock distributed a shipment of rabbits received from Missouri on Wednesday.

The Woodstock Boy Scouts made an excellent showing at the district rally held in Saginaw on Monday evening. Their table of handicrafts, hobbies won first award. The table, with a cover of azure blue, was decorated with a center glass holder of white birch, a portrait of George Washington, and a candelabra holding fifteen candles representing the youth and scout laws and used in the investiture service. The handicrafts exhibited were hammerhead brass, Richard Bronson; book-binding, Ludwig Baumgarten and Richard Bronson; buttonholes and moccasins, Bill Reynolds; old barometers, Ludwig Baumgarten; stamps, Ludwig Baumgarten and Jack Pascoe; model airplanes, Richard Bronson and Richard Seaton; lead soldiers, Perry Frackling and Morton Taylor; firearms, Morton Taylor and William Elwyn, Jr.; pellets, Morton Taylor. In the contests the Woodstock troop took first place in the centipede race, starting fire by friction and obstacle race. They were second in the basket carry and tug of war. The handicraft display will be shown again on March 13 at a public meeting in Woodstock. At Friday's meeting the investiture service was held for the new members, Perry Frackling, Charles and William Herpout and Morton Taylor. The members are planning to purchase uniforms this year and are earning the money themselves. Anyone having odd jobs that could be done by the scouts is urged to get in touch with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd.

At Monday's meeting of the Speakers' Institute to be held in Kingston a number of speeches from those given will be selected for a public meeting to be held in Woodstock. The subject is "Federal Government Problems." Dr. Cook will speak on the problem of labor; A. Walter Baker on the labor problem in industry; Roger Louchman on the Supreme Court; J. O'Brien on public utilities; Ralph V. Hayes on taxation, and Charles Gradwell and Tom Rogers on foreign relations. The best of these will be included in the Woodstock meeting, which will also feature a talk by John Ford on "Federal Problems." The meeting here will be a benefit for the Woodstock sesquicentennial.

Strike Item: Piemen Won't Eat Pie

Ten workers in a Los Angeles pie bakery started a sit-down strike, and went hungry rather than eat the plant's specialty. The pies were of non-union make, they said. Here are three of the strikers, hungry but determined to win. (Associated Press Photo)

ROAD TO LEARNING TOO MUDDY FOR THEM

These school children had to wait several hours for a school bus when it bogged down in muddy roads, so they staged a brief demonstration of their own in front of the Frederick, Md., courthouse, where the county commissioners meet. They said they wanted better roads. (Associated Press Photo)

Where An Actor Died In A Mock Battle

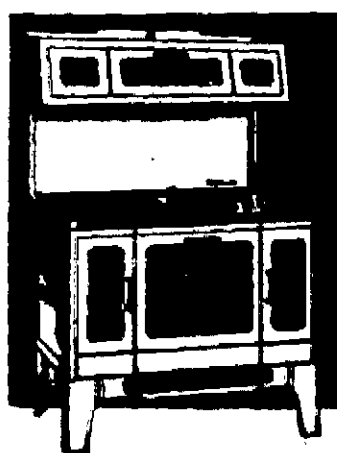

George Daley, a film extra, was playing the role of a machine gunner behind the window at the right of this battered "farmhouse" in a World War scene on a Hollywood studio lot when he was fatally injured by the explosion of a bomb that toppled a "prop" concrete wall on top of him. Sit-Down Strikers Get Worst Of It management balked at recognition of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers Union, a unit of the committee for industrial organization.

Prospects for settling another Illinois strike, at the Illinois Watch Case Company and its subsidiary, The American Manufacturing Company, both in Elgin, appeared dim. Strikers among the 700 employees prepared to tighten picket lines over the week-end.

Auto Conferees Deadlocked

At Detroit conferees for the General Motors Corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America apparently were deadlocked over the latter's demand for a 30-hour week. The corporation insisted on retention of its 40-hour schedule. Meanwhile, the Murray Corporation of America studied a U. A. W. A. request for a conference. A conference with the Chrysler Corporation was in the offing.

Shoe union leaders and manufacturers went back to conference rooms at Salem and Lynn, Mass., to renew efforts to reach agreements on the United Shoe and Leather Workers' demand for an immediate 15 per cent wage increase. Those two cities and Keene, N. H., remained the only shoe centers where agreements had not been reached.

New strikes broke out in Detroit plants of Swift & Co., the Detroit Delivery Service, the Bon De Golf Ball Co., and Mitchell & Smith, Inc., makers of auto parts.

Strikes at the Ferry-Morse Seed Co., the Arvey Corp., and the Palace Model Laundry, all in Detroit, were settled.

This is supposed to be an age of "managed currency," but how many of us can manage ours?

Game Conservation Old Game conservation is an ancient practice in America, according to Dr. W. C. MacLeod of New York, writing in the Scientific Monthly. He says: The Choctaw of the Southeastern United States had laws governing the amount of game which might be killed by each family. Every month each band chief had to report to the head chief just how much had been killed by each family under his control. The more northern Algonquians practically farmed the beavers. Censuses were taken every year, and only the young or very old animals were slain for use. Disregard for conservation principles is believed to have been the cause of the war in which the Iroquois exterminated the Erie. The latter trespassed on Iroquois territory and acted contrary to the customs of all Indians, for they left none of the beaver alive to continue the stock.

Who's King?

Oxford Boy Would Put a Stuart On British Throne

KING MAKER
Peter George, Oxford student leader, proclaims former Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria "legitimate heir to the British throne."

By THOMAS HAMILTON

Oxford, England (AP)—Should former Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria become king of England, the only reward Peter George plans to ask is "the right to lead a quiet academic life."

George leads a band of 50 students at Oxford college who declare that all Britain's monarchs since Queen Anne have held the throne illegally. Rupprecht, present head of the House of Stuart which was displaced by the House of Hanover more than 200 years ago, was declared "legitimate heir to the throne of Britain" in a proclamation read by George recently on the anniversary of Stuart Charles I's execution.

Although George exposed himself to trial for high treason, his action was received calmly and without retaliation from British officials.

No sudden burst of enthusiasm has come in response to his appeal, which brought the claims of the House of Stuart to attention for the first time since the rebellion of 1745 when "Bonnie Prince Charlie" nearly won back the throne.

And George, who wore his scholar's gown when he read the proclamation, continues to peer through his horn-rimmed spectacles at the Greek and Latin tomes on which he must stand examination this spring.

Just turned 21, slender for his six foot height, George comes from Cardiff, Wales, and is of Cornish descent.

"There are many in Oxford who would be willing to fight for the Stuarts," George contends.

MT. MARION

Mt. Marion, Feb. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coyle and daughter, Doris, of Ozone Park, L. I., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer.

Miss Dorothy Haslam of Richmond Hill spent the week-end with Miss Sylvia Pless.

Miss Lilian Finger of Yonkers spent Sunday and Monday with her aunt, Miss Ella Finger.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, former residents of this community, attended church services here Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid supper held in the church hall on February 13, netted the ladies approximately $20. In the evening several lively games of darts were enjoyed.

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company will give a demonstration luncheon at the church hall on Tuesday, March 2. Everyone is welcome.

Mrs. Warren Myer, president of the Ladies' Aid, wishes to announce that the annual country fair and chicken supper will be held in the church hall on Monday, July 5.

On Friday, March 5, the Congregational Church of Saugerties will present a play, "The Stolen Sapphire," in the church hall of the Plattekill Reformed Church, Mt. Marion. It bids fair to be a lively evening and everyone is urged to come and bring his friend.

Ruby P. T. A. has invited Mt. Marion P. T. A. to meet with them at their regular meeting in March. The meeting will be held on Thursday, March 11, in the Ruby schoolhouse. Members of Mt. Marion P. T. A. please take note.

Mt. Marion P. T. A. will hold its regular meeting in the schoolhouse on Tuesday, March 9. It is hoped that Dr. Mae E. Peabody will attend and lead an open discussion.

Carl Courten, leader of the Mt. Marion 4 H Boys, called a meeting in the schoolhouse on Friday for the sake of planning and mapping out the gardens the boys intend to make.

Miss Isabel Young left on the 22nd for St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, where she will enter training. On Wednesday evening Miss Young's family and relatives gathered at her home and gave her a shower to help equip her for entrance. Many lovely and useful gifts were received. Arabs Expected To Renew Guerilla War April 1; Jewish Colonists In Holy Land Keep Close Vigil

Settlers Are Fired Upon Repeatedly

Haifa, Palestine (AP)—Sentinels of the Jewish agricultural colonies in the Emek, or valley of Jezreel, are on guard 24 hours a day against raids by bands of Arab marauders.

Troops of the Jewish supernumerary police drill daily, and by night searchlights on the watch-towers of the colonies sweep over the plains and the hillside forests planted by the settlers. Keys to the colony armories—each containing five shotguns supplied by the government—are kept close at hand.

Destruction Occurs Nightly

Yet almost nightly somewhere in the Emek a colony is fired upon. Frequently trees are destroyed, crops burned, and occasionally a watchman is found shot or beaten to death.

The colonists live almost in a state of siege, for the formal ending of the Arab general strike last October has not meant an end to Arab raids on the settlements.

Anticipating a renewal of trouble, Lieut. General J. G. Dill, commanding British troops in Palestine and

Ride Out Riots

The Emek settlements built largely on land reclaimed from swamp by the Jewish National Fund, have become highly productive. Leaders of Arab irregulars, say the colonists, told their followers the Jews would run as soon as the trouble started last year—and promised to divide the Jewish lands among them.

"We still are here despite that," says the head of a colony near Afula, pointing to bullet marks on a stucco dormitory. "And we'll still be here after the next riots. We live on good terms with our Arab neighbors but hardly a week passes that raiders from a distance do not attempt vandalism of some kind here. It will be worse in the spring, but we are ready."

Determined To Stay

The colonists are especially proud of their reforestation work, and are bitter at the destruction of nearly 300,000 trees in Palestine during the 1936 riots.

A settler points out a barren place among the trees on the nearby hillside.

"There 2,500 of our trees were burned early last autumn," he says, "but we will plant again. We are here to stay."

LOOK OUT
From watchtower and horseback, Jewish agricultural colonists in Palestine maintain a constant guard against invasions from Arab marauders. Even so, they report almost nightly attacks on property and persons.

WANDERING SHIP NEVER HAS SEEN ITS HOME PORT

London (AP)—A Hungarian ship never has been to its home port and never can go. It is the cargo steamer Csikos—too big to get into its own harbor.

Captain Teleki, of Budapest, the master, explained the situation on a voyage here.

"The Csikos, 7,600 tons, was built in 1913 in Sunderland by a British firm. She was registered in Budapest, but can certainly never go there since she draws 23 feet of water and there is only six feet in the Danube at Budapest.

"We have an arrangement with Italy to use Fiume as a home port, but this is of little use, on account of difficulties in crossing Yugoslav territory.

Illegal Bullet Market Reported Flourishing

Nablus, Palestine (AP)—The bullet market through which Arab rebels obtained their ammunition during last year's guerilla warfare against British troops is reported in operation again in this center of the Arab nationalist movement.

The ammunition is smuggled in from Transjordan, where possession of arms and ammunition is legal, and is sold to Arab groups which relay it to the insurgents in their mountain strongholds.

The usual price is three piasters (15 cents) for five revolver bullets, and 12 piasters for five rifle bullets. Rebel sympathizers here say the market is flourishing despite vigilance of the British garrison in Nablus.

The traffic in contraband arms is causing concern among the Jews, and Moshe Shertok, political secretary of the Jewish Agency, charged recently in testimony before the royal commission investigating the troubles in the Holy Land that the government had taken no effective steps to halt it.

The border between Palestine and Transjordan is difficult to guard because of the migratory character of the Arabs on each side.

Money for purchasing rebel arms is contributed by "extorted from" the Jews charge) Arab tradesmen here and in other nationalist centers.

ARAB CHILDREN SING DERISION OF ENGLISH

Nablus, Palestine (AP)—On the approach of anyone they believe to be English, the Arab children of Nablus chant a song to a tune resembling that of "London Bridge Is Falling Down." The words are: Down with the English; down with Ormsby-Gore.

Down with anyone who helps the Zionists. All your guns and your airplanes can not prevail Against the strong spirit of our Arab heroes.

Britain's No. 1 Enemy May Rally Army

Jerusalem, Palestine (AP)—Nationalist leaders here predict that Fawzi Bey Kaukji, labelled "Public Enemy No. 1" by British troops during the 1936 riots, will return to Palestine as "commander-in-chief of the Arab army" and that guerilla warfare will be resumed in a few weeks.

Opinion generally is that rioting will break out again about April 1 with the end of the orange exporting season. Both Hebrew and Arabic newspapers point to the growing frequency of holdups, shootings, bombings and assassinations as an indication of renewed Arab warfare against Great Britain and the Jewish national home project being established under Britain's mandate for the League of Nations.

Discount Syrian Report

Reports that Fawzi, who was exiled from Syria in 1925 for his part in the Druze rebellion, will be pardoned by the new Syrian government and given a commission in the Syrian army are discounted by Nationalist chieftains in Palestine.

"The new Syrian regime would hardly dare affront Great Britain by giving a commission to the man who recently was directing open warfare against British soldiers," an Arab leader said in an interview with The Associated Press. "For the same reason Iraq, where Fawzi has been since he escaped from Palestine last October, hardly can be expected to welcome Fawzi back into its army."

Inspires Youth
Fawzi gave up a commission in the Iraqi army to lead the insurgent forces in Palestine last year. Recent reports from Baghdad said the new Iraqi government had asked him to leave Baghdad because the demonstrations excited by his presence there had brought protests from Great Britain. He now is said to be in Kirkuk.

"We will welcome him back," one nationalist leader said, "if only for the enthusiasm his return will arouse among the young nationalists who worship him as a hero and a patriot."

"We must continue the sort of guerilla tactics that enabled Abdel Krim to defy the French and Spanish for years and cost them millions of pounds. Britain won't spend millions for the privilege of handing our country over to the Jews."

League Mandate Assailed
"The League of Nations mandate under which Britain is pledged to help the Jews establish a national home here," Auni Bey Abdul Hadi, veteran leader of the Arab Istiqlal (independence movement), said recently, "is in direct contradiction to the freedom the British promised Palestine Arabs for their part in the war."

"The Jews are only waiting until they become a majority to claim the whole country. Our people see self-government granted to Iraq and Syria, and know they cannot have it while the mandate is in force. We insist the mandate is illegal and must be abolished. The Jewish national home project must be abandoned and Palestine given the independence it was promised."

R. & G. Employees Plan Farewell Party

The employees of the Rose & Gorman store, some of whom have been associated with this Kingston institution for a long term of years, will join in a farewell party to be held at the store following the close of business at 5:30 o'clock this evening.

It is expected that the occasion will be a memorable one, with music and dancing, a fine service of refreshments, entertainment features and everything that goes to make up a good time.

The Misses Shortell and Clark head the committee composed of the girls of the selling force, which has charge of the general arrangements for the big time.

The party is being sponsored by Messrs. Felner, Leonard and Irwin, who have been in charge of the liquidation of the Rose & Gorman stock of merchandise during the disposal sale which started early in January and who appreciate the co-operation they have had from the employees, during their stay in Kingston. On the part of the sales force there is also expression of appreciation of the attitude taken by the gentlemen referring to and regret at the pending termination of a pleasant association.

So far as the general public is concerned business will end with the closing of the doors Saturday night, but an auction sale of the fixtures will be had on Thursday, March 4.

RESOLUTIONS

February 25th, 1937.
At a special meeting of The Ulster County Committee on the Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis, the following resolutions on the death of Dr. Mark O'Meara were accepted, and ordered published and a copy sent to Dr. O'Meara's family:

The great cause of the prevention and cure of tuberculosis in Ulster county and the members of The Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, have suffered irreparable loss in the death of Dr. Mark O'Meara, a charter member of the committee, and of the Ulster County Red Cross when it was formed for the explicit purpose of undertaking the fight against tuberculosis through the sale of the Little Christmas seals.

From the very first, Dr. O'Meara was actively and keenly interested in all of the tuberculosis prevention and cure efforts, and has been for many years the chairman of the Tuberculosis Visiting Nurse Committee which has been such a beneficial and life-saving part of the tuberculosis work.

Dr. O'Meara was also deeply and actively interested in the Camp Haverland feature of the work, with its far-reaching forward look. At all times he was ready in his kindly way to give of his strength and financial support toward the cause so dear to his heart. His genial presence and wise advice will be greatly missed by the Tuberculosis Committee in all of its future deliberations and activities. The committee, which will always cherish the memory of Dr. O'Meara, extends its most profound sympathy to his family, in this, their time of bereavement.

The Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health.

Mother Gets Order But Wife Protests

brought an action in Supreme Court of New York city for a separation. This action, it is alleged, so upset the young man that he was sent to an institution for treatment and care. This action was brought by Louis Landes, attorney for Mrs. Peck, and an application was made for alimony and counsel fees.

It is contended that young Peck has no property or income except an allowance his step-father gives him and for that reason no application was made to county court for the appointment of a commission of his property.

Following the appointment of his mother as a commission of person, his wife's attorney brought the now existing action to have the order of the court set aside. This order to show cause will be argued next week at special term of county court here. The application is made on the minutes of the court in the matter tried last January here and on affidavits which charge that the commission was appointed without the wife having notice. It is charged that the affair is one brought to avoid payment of alimony and counsel fees on the part of Peck.

AS DEPENDABLE AS YOUR MILKMAN

Next worst thing to opening your door and finding no milk on the doorstep would be to spend an evening at home without your Daily Freeman.

Fortunately, both your milkman and your Freeman delivery boy have one thing in common which is of utmost importance to you... DEPENDABILITY.

Your delivery boy becomes dependable at an early age because he's proud of the fact that he's "on the staff"... proud of the fact that "the staff" is dependable... proud of the fact that his Dad and the people on his route all read and "swear by" the news and editorials in "his" paper.

He's too young to understand the thing that really keeps his job... though your milkman could tell him: dependable customers. Not customers for his paper, not more "readers", but customers for the ADS in his paper; dependable buyers of the things advertised in the Freeman.

Freeman advertisers can depend upon Freeman ad-customer himself, and the advertisers whose names have been a part of the Freeman ever since he can remember will be very important to him. He'll know they're Dependable, just as his father and mother and the people on his route do, today.

Some day your delivery boy will realize that a modern newspaper cannot exist without advertising and that advertising cannot continue to exist unless it's DEPENDABLE ADVERTISING.

By that time, he'll have become a Freeman reader and ad-customer himself, and the advertisers whose names have been a part of the Freeman ever since he can remember will be very important to him. He'll know they're Dependable, just as his father and mother and the people on his route do, today.

PEGGY AND HUSBAND ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY

New York, Feb. 26 (AP)—Peggy Garcia ran afoul of the bigamy laws today on the rebound from her unsuccessful $500,000 heart balm suit against Dave Rubinoff and his violin. She and her husband, Michael La Rocca, were under arrest on charges of bigamy on the strength of a statement made to Harold W. Hastings, assistant district attorney, by a woman who said she, too, was married to the granite salesman.

Hastings quoted the woman, Mrs. Kathleen Murray La Rocca, as saying La Rocca was the father of three children born to them prior to their marriage, which antedated that of Miss Garcia and La Rocca. Hastings said Miss Garcia knew La Rocca allegedly already married when she married him.

Peggy already was married, too, under Virginia law, when she fled the suit, charging breach of promise, was thrown out Wednesday on that showing.

After answering a few questions in police lineup today about her past marital life, Peggy stepped down and La Rocca took her place. He also answered routine questions about himself.

Hastings said he expected to place the double bigamy case immediately before the grand jury.

The Great Dipper

The great dipper only appears to revolve, owing to the revolution of the earth. It makes an apparent revolution every 24 hours, the same as the sun. It is visible throughout the entire night because it is within what is called the circle of perpetual apparition, or that part of the heavens which is always in sight to the observer. This circle enlarges as one travels from the equator, where it is nothing, to the pole, where it takes in the whole Northern Hemisphere.

Walnut in Victorian Era

During the Victorian era walnut was used almost exclusively in the construction of practical furnishings—dining room and bed room pieces especially—though handsomely carved whatnots and other living room items, settees, small tables, occasional chairs and massive hall chests were also fashioned of the light-toned wood.

Lehman Sends Supplemental Budget of $4,453,558 to Pay For New Security Program

Bares Gang Threat

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 26 (AP)—Governor Lehman sent to the New York legislature today a supplemental budget of $4,453,558, increasing the total proposed governmental expenditures for 1937-38 to $370,000,748.36.

The major sum, $3,125,000, was asked to finance a recently enacted social security act, which the governor had previously had recommended be financed from an anticipated surplus at the close of the new fiscal year, June 30, 1935.

The social security measure provides aid for dependent children and the blind.

Other important items included: $347,000 for construction of a new hospital and administration building at Auburn prison; $19,000 to buy equipment to manufacture automobile license plates publishing the New York City World's Fair in 1939; $365,095 for changes "in the interest of greater budgetary clarity."

The new appropriations will be added, if the legislature approves, to Governor Lehman's original "million dollar a day" budget submitted February 1. At that time, the governor asked continuation of all emergency taxes and restoration of the fourth cent to the gasoline levy, eliminating last year, to finance the expenditure. Action on the budget has been deferred pending a public joint legislative hearing next Wednesday at the revenue proposals.

One of the reasons why Jones Dairy is making a runaway of the Gold Division of the Silver Palace League is reflected in the current release of official averages by Secretary Charles J. Tiano.

Randy Kelder is leading the league with an average of 192.27 for 63 games while the other four regulars are clipping the maples at 185 or better. Al Kieffer is second with 188. Ken Williams has 186.16. Alward 186.6 and Ballard an even 185. Addison Jones, the sixth regular, has 178.21.

With its five regulars overshadowing the field and averaging 234 per game, the Dairy squad has already clinched the championship for the 1936-37 season. With 12 games remaining on the schedule, it has a potential lead of 14 games.

League records remained unchallenged in recent weeks. Larry Peterson, of the Crystal Beauty Shoppe, holds both individual marks of 239 and 707. Jones Dairy rightfully sports the team marks of 1042 and 2931.

The following figures are the official city tournament averages. The figures:

Kerr Interested In Grid Safety

Albany, Feb. 26 (AP).—Head football coach Andy Kerr of Colgate University is satisfied with the football rules "as they stand now" but believes if changes are made they should be designed "to effect greater safety for the players."

"The importance of the pass interference rule, chief topic of discussion for two years," he told the eastern New York group of alumni at a dinner last night, "is not whether it wins or loses games, but how it affects the safety of the boys playing the game."

Kerr predicted "a good team, but not a great one" for Colgate in 1937.

Dallas, Tex.—Tom Neaupre, 195, Dallas, outpointed Jack Kranz, 187, Gary, Ind., (19).

HARRY

—THE MONTCLAIR (N.J.)

VETERAN HAS WON THE

NATIONAL SQUASH TENNIS

TITLES SEVEN TIMES

IN A ROW SINCE

HE IS SHOOTING FOR HIS EIGHTH NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TO TOP BIG BILL TILDEN'S FEAT OF WINNING SEVEN NATIONAL TENNIS CROWNS—SIX OF 'EM IN A ROW

Champions come and go, but Harry Wolf, national squash tennis king, seems to go on forever. The brilliant Montclair, N. J., racket-wielder has won the national title seven times running since 1930, and has been ranked U. S. No. 1 each year. One of these days a youngster may topple him but until then Harry is likely to keep the crown as long as he defends.

Wolf is going to bid to make it a "straight eight" to top Big Bill Tilden's great outdoor record of winning the national tennis singles seven times.

In six of the years he has been national champion Wolf has also won the New Jersey state title and the New York City Memorial tournament. In that period he won something like 26 important squash tennis tournaments.

Schoolboy Star.

Wolf started into the squash picture at 15, winning the state cup. Two years later, in 1925, he won the trophy again and also grabbed the New Jersey class B championship. His play earned him sixth place in the national rankings.

He entered Williams College and had no opportunity to continue squash. However, upon graduation, he again took up his favorite exercise and won the national title the first year out.

The four years at college were not wasted. He entered Williams with quite a reputation as a tennis player, having captained the team at St. Peter's prep, Jersey City, through four undefeated seasons. He made the varsity net team as a freshman and held down the No. 1 post during his junior and senior years.

A "Love" Match.

In 1926 the Williams team didn't lose a match. Neither did Harry Wolf. In their stride they defeated Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Dartmouth, Amherst, Wesleyan, Hamilton and Union. Wolf won the New England intercollegiate doubles, and, in 1927, both singles and the doubles.

Aside from his national trophies, Wolf prizes most the cup emblematic of the New Jersey coast tennis championship of 1928. It took him three hours and 45 minutes to down Fred Powers in the final that needed 117 games for the five sets. There may be longer championship matches on record, but that is the one Harry never will forget.

Tennis brought romance into his life. So successful were Alice Francis and Harry Wolf in collecting mixed doubles championships that they decided to make it a permanent partnership and were married in 1924. They have a flock of trophies to show they won the New Jersey State mixed title four times and the Eastern clay court championship five times in a row.

Chef Forgues Recalls General Butler's Likes, Kitchen Reunion Results

Joseph Forgues, chef at the Governor Clinton Hotel, remembered one of the failings of his former commanding officer in France after nearly 20 years and this memory of what Major General Smedley D. Butler particularly liked for breakfast was responsible for a reunion between the former army cook and the general Thursday morning.

When Major General Butler was commanding his outfit in France it happened that Forgues was the cook at Brest who prepared the general's meals. One of the failings of the famous fighter was his weakness for Lyonnaise potatoes for breakfast. Like all good chefs who delight in pleasing their patrons, Forgues provided the delicacy whenever possible for the general.

Wednesday General Butler came to Kingston to speak at the annual Men's Club dinner at the First Dutch church and he stopped at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Thursday morning when the general came down to breakfast Oscar Mitchell, waiter at the hotel, presented the general with his favorite dish Lyonnaise potatoes.

With the compliments of the chef, said the waiter as he placed the dish before the noted soldier.

This immediately brought back memories to the general and he immediately knew that it must be one of his former cooks, for who else would remember his breakfast failing and be so anxious to please.

He inquired who the chef might be and was informed that it was Mr. Forgues who had cooked at Brest 20 years ago for the general.

"May I see the chef after breakfast?" inquired Major General Butler, and he was informed that he might not only visit the chef but make an inspection tour of the hotel kitchen.

After finishing his meal Gen. Butler visited the kitchen where he and his former cook renewed acquaintances. Forgues informed the famous fighting man that not only had he cooked in France, where he became familiar with the love for Lyonnaise potatoes for breakfast, but he told the general that there had been a subsequent encounter.

At the time when General Butler was police commissioner of Philadelphia Forgues was cooking at a place there when General Butler conducted one of his famous prohibition raids to clean up the town. Forgues told the general of the incident and how he had been cooking at the place and had witnessed the raid.

It may be the colorful setting of Kingston or it may be the hospitality of the citizens, but at any rate Major General Butler is returning to New Paltz some time in April for a speaking date and he has promised to return to the Governor Clinton Hotel. Those who know the general fairly well, however, believe it is the expertness of Chef Forgues to prepare and serve Lyonnaise potatoes for breakfast which is bringing the general back to Kingston in April.

LETTER-WRITING CAN BE FUN

Helen has as much fun writing letters as her friends have reading them.

Her pen races merrily across the page, giving just the impression she'd like to make as a delightful, up-to-date girl.

"I'd adore coming to your club dance. And it's sweet of you to ask me to stay overnight rather than endure that sleepy 40-mile drive home in the wee small hours," she writes Ruth.

This is her tactful way of continuing her friendship with the boy she met and liked on a week-end visit: "I'm still bubbling over with the good times I had in Benton. Your new rhumba steps and lively jokes made my visit even jollier."

She sympathizes: "I have just heard of your father's death. My heart aches for you."

Her kindly congratulation: "How happy you and Russell must be over the new baby. May he grow to be as a great a joy to his friends as his parents are."

Helen pours her personality into those chatty letters without puzzling over correct form. She's up on the etiquette of address, salutation, closing. She pleases Mrs. White by addressing her, though a widow, as Mrs. John R., not Mrs. Anna. She rightly addresses the former Mary Brown, divorced from John Smith, as Mrs. Brown Smith.

Our 40-page booklet, HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS, gives fine points of letter etiquette, tips on vocabulary. Sample letters for all types of correspondence.

Send 15c for our booklet, HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 13th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and the NAME of booklet.

Two Way Split
Elyria, O.—Ever since January 1 the two Democrats and one Republican on the board of county commissioners had wrangled over allotting orders for three typewriters.

But everything is all right now. One Republican and two Democratic dealers received the orders.

There's plenty of food on the economic table, but society's awkward about passing it around.

MODES of the MOMENT

Spring Coiffure Follows Head Contour

Here is a new spring coiffure to match your new spring chapeau. Dumas, who coifs some of New York's smartest heads, designed it on suavely sophisticated lines following the natural contour of the head—a trend which he believes is important. The hair is parted in the center, set in two soft waves and rolled over the finger.

PATTERN 5207

A rustic home in a flower garden with the old-time well giving just the right touch, proves delightful "needle-painting". It's done to the greatest part in single stitch; a touch of French knots and lazy-daisy stitch give realism to the flowers. You needn't frame it—just line it and hang it up. In pattern 5207 you will find a transfer pattern of a wall hanging 15 x 20 inches; a color chart; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches used; directions for finishing wall hanging.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 253 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Chicago is said to be starting a campaign "to drive motorists out of the city." But what would it do to the population figures?

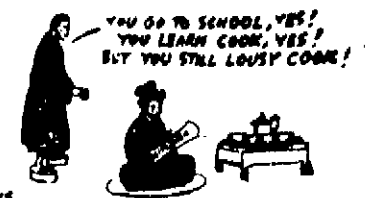

Brides-To-Be Trained For Professional Men

Tokyo, J.P.—If a girl in Japan wants to marry a policeman, a doctor, an office-worker, or even a soldier, there are specialty schools now in Tokyo where she can go and prepare herself for that eventuality.

Believing that their daughters may win a better prize matrimonially, more and more parents—after having decided upon the profession of their future sons-in-law—are enrolling their daughters in these various preparatory courses.

Classes intended to teach scientific household management are conducted in accounts and budgeting, dietetics, hygiene, sewing, flower arrangement, tea ceremony, music, cooking and serving Japanese, Chinese and Western style dishes.

Amphioxus First Known to Have Had a Backbone
About 400,000,000 years or more ago Nature created the Amphioxus—the first animal that is known to have had a semblance of a backbone. Nature was a good craftsman in this work, for the Amphioxus has come down to us, through all these millions of years, in almost unchanged condition. It is found throughout temperate and tropical regions in just as primitive a form as it was eons ago, according to a scientist in the New York Herald Tribune. In American waters it is found as a slender, wormlike creature about two inches long, but in Japanese waters it reaches a length of ten inches.
Out of the Amphioxus came the sharks, the fishes, the reptiles, the quadrupeds, the mammals, the primates and finally man. If Amphioxus had failed in its duty as a link in the chain of evolution or had differentiated itself in some other fashion, the human race

St. Ursula Players Present "Palms" Thursday Night to Capacity House

Thursday evening, at St. Mary's Hall, the girls of the Academy of St. Ursula, Marygrove, set a new record in their histrionic achievements when they presented their annual scholarship fund play, "Palms," to a capacity audience.

The presentation was a remarkable blend of smooth, well-spoken lines and keen dramatic action against a background of colorful and cleverly executed stage settings.

The locale of the piece—a Roman garden, a Roman palace, the catacombs and a Roman praetorium—were of such a nature that at any time individual settings could have dominated. However, this never happened and the skillful acting of the players in assuming the difficult roles they portrayed was testimony to the excellence of the coaching.

The story devolved about the characters of Claudia, well-played by Bernice Nolan, and Nemesis, commander of the Imperial legions, portrayed by Anna Mae Weishaupt.

When the play opened Claudia and her nurse, Zilla (Kathleen Cullen) were in the garden of Nemesis' villa and the plight of the blind child was revealed. Zilla, since Claudia was a baby, had protected her against physical harm and against persons. The child's joy in flowers, her delight at the splash of the fountain suddenly were interrupted by the return from a foreign war of the father, Nemesis. Nemesis had never seen the child. His grief at the death of the child's mother when Claudia was born was so great that in true pagan style he departed. Hence, he was in ignorance of Claudia's blindness. Father and daughter were finally united and the scene ended with Nemesis vowing to cure the child.

Nemesis called upon Eleazer Ben Asa (Patricia Miller), a famous Jewish doctor, who told the father that he could do nothing and that the only salvation could be obtained through the Lord God of Israel. Claudia in the meantime had overheard her aunt speaking of her blindness and the child's misery, her self-consciousness and the tender solicitations of Zilla rendered an effective scene.

Perhaps the most beautiful scene of the entire play came in the second act in the catacombs where Nemesis appeared with Claudia before Pope Stephen (Catherine O'Bryan) begging that the child's sight be restored. The mood of the act, that of deep reverence and the faith of the Christ's followers, was set by the soft chanting of the Kyrie Eleison. Particularly effective was the procession of the acolytes in soft robes and the worship at the altar by the priest in white cassock and scarlet vestment. Following the Mass, Nemesis and Claudia were received and the child's sight was restored.

In succeeding scenes Claudia, who was practically re-born and took into her garden the poor children of the neighborhood, by her open acknowledgment of faith paved the way for the father's enemies, with the result that both were haled before the prefect (Jane Rafferty). Neither Claudia nor Nemesis would denounce Christ in favor of the pagan gods and the reward of their faith is the death sentence.

Worthy of special praise were the costumes and the scenery, which gave an effect of great beauty and proved unusually complimentary. The work on these was done by the teachers, assisted by capable older girls. The presence of the fountain in the garden scenes, while not a new idea, showed what ingenious thought can do to make stage settings perfect. St. Ursula's little theatre movement is passing into a phase which will add greatly to the already high prestige of the Academy.

Entr'acte music was provided by Miss Marjorie Cooley, pianist, of Albany, and Theodore Riccobono, violinist, accompanied at the piano by Edmund B. Riccobono, both of this city.
